IMPORTANT NOTICE TO CALIFORNIA POLICYHOLDERS RELATED TO THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

The COVID-19 pandemic has brought uncertainty and challenges to many of our policyholders. While we don't know when business will return to "normal", we are here to support our customers through this crisis.

If your policy's estimated rating exposure base has been impacted by COVID-19, mid-term policy adjustments may be available. These adjustments apply to General Liability/Package Liability sales or other variable rating base. Philadelphia Indemnity Insurance Company will consider individual policy adjustments based on your reported exposure changes. Any reporting of exposures does not waive our right to confirm the information through an audit or request other supporting information.

If your scheduled automobiles have been taken off the road as a result of the COVID-19 health crisis, policy adjustment may be available. Coverage for liability and collision may be suspended for 30 days. This adjustment would apply only to the vehicles in non-operational status. Philadelphia Indemnity Insurance Company does reserve the right to confirm that the vehicles were not on the road for the indicated period.

Please contact your agent or broker to submit information regarding any changes to your operations as a result of the pandemic.
